International Academy of Trial Lawyers
2023 Annual Meeting

Welcome TO Ireland!

Fellows and Friends,

I, the Fellows from the whole island of Ireland, and our former Ireland Program delegates, are so excited to welcome you all to our Annual Meeting. The location, Killarney National Park, is Ireland's first and largest national park. It has an important association with the United States. Long famed for its natural beauty, the Muckross Estate, encompassing approximately 1,300 acres of land was bought in 1899 by Lord Ardilaun, a member of the Guinness family. He then sold the property in 1911 to a Californian, Mr. William Bowers Bourn, who gave the estate to his daughter Maud, on her marriage to Arthur Vincent. In 1932, it was gifted to the State by Arthur Vincent and his parents in law in memory of his (by then deceased) wife.

Set on three beautiful interconnecting lakes, it has everything you could want in Ireland. Castles, abbeys, monastic islands, and a world class hotel — The Europe Hotel — looking out at the vista of Ireland's tallest mountain range. Apart from the beautiful Dingle peninsula and its islands, there is nothing between you and the United States except the Atlantic Ocean.

We have planned a top class program packed with renowned and inspirational speakers, wonderful Irish food and drink, exciting entertainment and the best of Irish hospitality. I look forward to welcoming you all. But especially to those of Irish descent, I look forward to welcoming you home.

Mark Pollock

Mark Pollock

Everything Mark Pollock does is about inspiring leaders and their teams to build resilience and collaborate with others so that they achieve more than they thought possible. Unbroken by blindness in 1998, Mark became an adventure athlete competing in ultra-endurance races across deserts, mountains, and the polar ice caps, making him the first blind person to race to the South Pole. He also won silver and bronze medals for rowing at the Commonwealth Games and set up an international motivational speaking business. In 2010, a fall from a second story window nearly killed him. Mark broke his back and the damage to his spinal cord left him paralyzed. Now he is on a new expedition, this time exploring the intersection where humans and technology collide, in an effort to cure paralysis in our lifetime. Chairman of Collaborative Cures and founder of the global running series Run in the Dark, Mark was selected by the World Economic Forum as a Young Global Leader where he served on the Global Futures Council on Human Enhancement and the Advisory Board of Cybathlon. He is on the Board of the Christopher and Dana Reeve Foundation (USA), and is a Wings for Life Ambassador (Europe). Author of 'Making It Happen', Mark is the subject of the acclaimed documentaries 'Blind Man Walking' and 'Unbreakable – The Mark Pollock Story'. He has been awarded honorary doctorates by The Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland and also from Queens University Belfast. Furthermore, he holds a diploma in Global Leadership and Public Policy for the 21st Century from Harvard University, degrees from Trinity College Dublin and UCD Smurfit Graduate Business School.

Baroness Foster
of Aghadrumsee,
DBE PC - Arlene Foster

Arlene Foster, Baroness Foster of Aghadrumsee DBE PC Former First Minister of Northern Ireland

Arlene Foster served as First Minister of Northern Ireland from 2016-2017 and from 2020-2021. She served as leader of the Democratic Unionist Party from 2015-2021. Arlene Foster has been involved in Northern Ireland politics since being a student at Queen's University, Belfast. A lawyer by profession, she was born in 1970 at the start of the Northern Ireland Troubles and grew up in County Fermanagh where she still lives with her husband and three children.

Arlene was instrumental in establishing power sharing in Northern Ireland and served as Minister for the Environment when devolution returned to Northern Ireland in 2007. In 2008 she was appointed as Minister for the Department of Enterprise Trade and Investment, a position she held until May 2015. In 2012 she spearheaded a yearlong campaign entitled 'Our Time, Our Place', which sought to change the narrative for Northern Ireland, marketing it as a great place to live, work, invest and holiday in. Seeing the gap in energy infrastructure in the west of NI, she drove the Gas to the West policy of bringing natural gas to homes and businesses in the area.

As Enterprise, Trade and Investment Minister for Northern Ireland Arlene was the primary ministerial contact for overseas interest in Northern Ireland both as a place to invest in and do business with. She travelled extensively to the middle east, (Dubai, Abu Dhabi, Qatar, Oman), India, and the far east including China and Singapore. The travel was to help indigenous businesses find fresh markets and find new inward investment for NI.

Arlene was initially appointed as First Minister of Northern Ireland on 11th January 2016 becoming Northern Ireland's first female First Minister.

Devolution collapsed in January 2017 and what followed was a series of political negotiations to revive the power sharing institutions. Finally in January 2020 the Assembly and Executive were re-established after the New Decade, New Approach agreement which Arlene was fundamental in bringing about. She was reappointed as First Minister on 11th January 2020 and served until her resignation on 14th June 2021.

Arlene has been to the forefront of advocating for more women in public life and has led by example in many ways, not least becoming the first female First Minister. Empowering more young women, and women from disadvantaged backgrounds to take part in public life is something she feels very strongly about, both at home in the UK and across the globe.
