International Academy of Trial Lawyers
2022 Mid-Year Meeting

Welcome to New Orleans!

Fellows and Friends,

There are very few cities in the United States so rich in history and culture as New Orleans. It has often been described as the most European of US cities. It is famous for its French Quarter, its food, its music, and its Mardi Gras. No city in the world can party like New Orleans. The city and its inhabitants have much to offer and much to admire. Their resilience in successfully rebuilding the city and their lives after Hurricane Katrina is the stuff of legends. The Academy is here to show its support, to learn and to have fun. This is a unique opportunity to enjoy our fellowship during the perfect time of the year to visit the city. As you can see we have planned a fantastic program. I look forward so much to seeing you there.

LA First Lady, Donna Edwards will be presenting on Human Trafficking Prevention and Awareness

Donna Edwards

Family, faith and helping others are the core values that Louisiana First Lady Donna Hutto Edwards uses to guide her life. She and Gov. John Bel Edwards, Louisiana's 56th governor, have been proudly serving the people of Louisiana since 2016. Drawing upon her experience and knowledge as a former public school music teacher, she is excited to use her platform to make a difference for kids, families and educators, raise awareness about important issues and connect communities with needed resources and support.

As first lady, Donna has created the Louisiana First Foundation, which has a three-fold focus: developing programs that center around educating the "whole child" through Teach MAM (Music, Art and Movement), fighting against human trafficking and building a supportive network to help foster children and parents with government, non-profits, businesses and faith based organizations through Louisiana Fosters.

In July of 2021, after much advocacy by the Office of First Lady Donna Edwards and others, Gov. John Bel Edwards officially announced the opening of the Governor's Office of Human Trafficking Prevention, Louisiana's first entity solely dedicated to addressing human trafficking. Through this office, the Human Trafficking Prevention Resource Center of Louisiana was developed, the first web-based resource for victims, survivors, service providers, stakeholders and citizens to learn about human trafficking, how to identify when someone needs help, how to report this heinous crime and about more specific services for victims. In April of 2022, First Lady Edwards was also instrumental in developing and launching the state's first statewide antitrafficking awareness campaign, Stop Trafficking LA: Human Trafficking is R.E.A.L. The R.E.A.L stands for Recognizing the signs, Educating others, Acting immediately, and Listening to victims and survivors.
